J. Newton Brown, D. D., Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge.

[illegible] disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients; yet know of no sufficient reasons why a man may testify to the benefits he believes himself to have from any simple preparation, in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others. I do this more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them when suffering from great and long continued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters, at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before, and had almost despaired of regaining. I, therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them.

J. NEWTON BROWN.

PHILADELPHIA, June 23, 1861.

PARTICULAR NOTICE.

[illegible] many preparations sold under the name of Bitters, put up in quart bottles, compounded of the cheapest whiskey or common rum, costing from 20 to 40 cents per gallon, the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander Seed. This class of Bitters has caused, and will continue to cause, as long as they can be sold, hundreds to die the death of the drunkard. By their use the system is kept continually under the influence of Alcoholic Stimulants of the worst kind, the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the result is all the horrors attendant upon a drunkard's life.

For those who desire and will have a Liquor Bitters we publish the following receipt. Get One Bottle Hoofland's German Bitters and mix with Three Quarts of Good Brandy or Whiskey, and the result will be a preparation that will far excel in medicinal virtues and true excellence any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market, and will cost much less. You will have all the virtues of Hoofland's Bitters in connection with a good article of Liquor, at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you.

TTENTION, SOLDIERS!
HE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS.

e attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that "HOOFLAND'S German Bitters" will cure nine-tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed. We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language, "has been saved by

PHILADELPHIA, August 23, 1862.

Messrs. Jones & Evans.—Well gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been, for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Capt. R. B. Ayres. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy-two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House, and sent to this city on board the steamer State of Maine, from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been about as low as any one could be and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything, and if I did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again.

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances; and accordingly, the physicians who had been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully, to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me, and advised me to see a clergyman, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr Frederick Steinbron, of Sixth below Arch Street, advised me as a forlorn hope, to try your Bitters, and kindly procured a bottle. From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded, and I am now, thank God, getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles, I have gained ten pounds, and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months: for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian, from the vicinity of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears—to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly yours,
ISAAC MALONE.

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr. Malone, restored to health.

SATURDAY MORNING, JUNE 20, 1863.

By Telegraph.

The dispatch again contains no intelligence of interest, and we hardly understand how so much time can pass without some decisive action at the various points of close contact. It seems tolerably certain that the main body of Lee's army has gone from the vicinity of Fredericksburg, and it is supposed that a grand raid will be attempted to Pennsylvania, where, according to the dispatch, no preparation has been made to resist it. If that is so there must have been a strange neglect on the part of somebody, for certainly such a project might have been prevented after the many days' notice of its likelihood. We think, however, in spite of the telegraph, that Lee will not make his little trip without finding a sufficient force ready to take care of his advance and of his retreat.

The Port Hudson fight still continues, during weather of intense heat. It is to be hoped that the siege may not be so long protracted that Northern constitutions will be forced to yield to the intolerable severity of a Southern summer.

Vicksburg still holds out, and according to rebel reports is not likely to give up so soon as was hoped, but that story is probably told for effect, and we see no good reason, as yet, for doubting the ability of Gen. Grant to hinder any reinforcements from reaching the beleaguered city.

Gov. Seymour's Letter.

We have been urgently desired to publish the following letter written by the Governor of New York, in reply to a request to attend a "Vallandigham meeting," and we do so, that our readers may see what position is taken by him, and not because we deem it entirely correct at this time: if it is unanswerable, of course the truth can safely and ought to be published and if not, it is proper that the error should be pointed out:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, May 16th.

I cannot attend the meeting at the capitol this evening, but I wish to state my opinion in regard to the arrest of Mr. Vallandigham. It is an act which has brought dishonor upon our country. It is full of danger to our persons and our homes. It bears upon its front a conscious violation of law and justice. Acting upon the evidence of detailed informers, shrinking from the light of day, in the darkness of night, armed men violated the house of an American citizen and furtively bore him away to military trial, conducted without those safe guards known to the proceedings of our judicial tribunals. The transaction involved a series of offenses against our most sacred rights. It interfered with the freedom of speech; it molested our rights to be secure in our homes against unreasonable searches and seizures; it pronounced sentence without trial, save one which was a mockery, which insulted as well as wronged. The perpetrators now seek to impose punishment, not for an offense against law but for the disregard of an invalid order, put forth in the utter disregard of civil liberty. If this proceeding is approved by the Government, and sustained by the people, it is not merely a step toward revolution—it is a revolution; it will only lead to military despotism—it establishes military despotism. In this aspect it must be accepted or in this aspect it must be rejected. If it is upheld, our liberties are overthrown, the safety of our persons, security of our property will hereafter depend upon the arbitrary will of such military rulers as may be placed over us, while our constitutional guarantees will be broken down. Even now the governors and courts of some of the great Western States have sunk into insignificance before the despotic powers claimed and exercised by military men who have been sent into their borders. It is a fearful thing to increase the danger which now overhangs us by treating the law, the judiciary, and the State authorities with contempt. The people of this country now wait with the deepest anxiety the decisions of the Administration upon these acts. Having given it a generous support in the conduct of the war, we pause to see what kind of Government it is for which we are asked to pour out our blood and our treasures. The action of the Administration will determine in the minds of more than one-half of the people of the loyal States whether this war is waged to put down rebellion at the South or destroy free institutions at the North. We look for its decision with most solemn solicitude.

[Signed.] HORATIO SEYMOUR.

Now, the general tenor of the letter will not, we presume, be controverted by any freeman, and if the country was not disturbed by civil war, and if the Governor had not stated that the "offence charged was not against law, but was for the disregard of an invalid order put forth in the utter disregard of civil liberty," we should not deem any comments necessary. But the Nation is in peril and must be protected at all hazards. Summary proceedings are necessary in self defence, and as a protection against utter destruction.—Action is demanded which in time of peace would be intolerable and criminal. The technical and even the sacred rights of individuals must yield to the public safety. In emergencies, this is always the case. A city patrol suspends the writ of habeas corpus, every time he arrests and puts in custody a person whom he finds wandering suspiciously by night through our streets, because the public peace demands it. During a conflagration, the fire wards may take forcible possession of our stores and dwellings, and if need be, level them with the ground, to stop the progress of the flames and save the town from destruction. To these authorized [illegible] of power we are all compelled to submit, and if in any great peril, we or our fortunes are in the way of peace and safety, the supreme power intervenes and makes the private right subordinate to the public necessity. Nor can we presume to be sole judges of what constitutes such a necessity,—that is the privilege of those in authority, and is so, because every one in a community yields so much as a compensation for the general protection which society and governments give. The proper authority did decide that Vallandigham's conduct was dangerous to the public peace and caused his arrest to be made. A writ of habeas corpus was applied for, and Judge Leavitt of the Federal Court,—a democrat and a personal friend of the prisoner—refused to allow it, stating in part the following reasons, which we quote because we regard them as a complete and a judicial answer to Gov. Seymour's charge that the arrest was made "for the disregard of an invalid order put forth in utter disregard of civil liberty."

Under the appointment of the President, Gen. Burnside assumed the command of this department. That he was a man eminently fitted for the position there is no room for a doubt. He had achieved during his brief military career a national reputation as a wise, discreet, patriotic and brave General. He not only enjoyed the confidence and respect of the President and Secretary of War, but of the whole country. He had nobly laid his party preferences and predilections upon the altar of his country, and consecrated his life to her service. It was known that the widely extended department, with the military supervision of which he was charged, was one of great importance, and demanded great vigilance and ability in the administration of its military concerns. Kentucky was a border State, in which there was a large element of disaffection toward the National Government, and sympathy with those in rebellion against it. Formidable invasions have been attempted, and are now threatened. Four of the States have a river border, and are in perpetual danger of invasion. In Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, a class of mischievous politicians had succeeded in poisoning the minds of a portion of the community with the rankest feelings of disloyalty. Artful politicians, disguising their latent treason under hollow pretensions of devotion to the Union, were striving to disseminate their pestilent heresies among the masses of the people. The evil was one of alarming magnitude, and threatened seriously to impede the military operations of the Government, and greatly to protract the suppression of the rebellion. Gen. Burnside was not slow to perceive the dangerous consequences likely to result from these disloyal efforts, and resolved, if possible, to suppress them. In the exercise of his discretion he issued the order—No. 38—which has been brought to the notice of the Court. I shall not comment on that order, or say anything more in vindication of its expediency. I refer to it only because Gen. Burnside, in his manly and patriotic communication to the Court, has stated fully his motives and reasons for issuing it, and also that it was for its supposed violation that he ordered the arrest of Vallandigham. He has done this under his responsibility as the commanding General of this department, and in accordance with what he supposed the power vested in him by the appointment of the President. It was virtually the act of the Executive Department under the power vested in the President by the Constitution; and I am unable to perceive on what principle this judicial tribunal can be invoked to annul or reverse it. In the judgment of the commanding General, the emergency required it, and whether he acted wisely or discreetly is not properly subject for judicial review. It is worthy of remark here that this arrest was not made by Gen. Burnside under any claim or pretense that he had authority to dispose of or punish the party arrested, according to his own will, without trial and proof of the facts alleged as the ground for the arrest, but with a view to an investigation by a military court or commission. Such an investigation has taken place, the result of which has not been made known to this Court. Whether the Military Commission for the trial of the charges against Vallandigham was legally constituted and had jurisdiction of the case, is not a question before this Court. There is clearly no authority in this Court on the pending motion to revise or reverse the proceedings of the Military Commission, if they were before the Court. The sole question is, whether the arrest was legal; and as before remarked, its legality depends on the necessity which existed for making it; and of that necessity, for the reason stated, this Court cannot judicially determine. Gen. Burnside is unquestionably amenable to the Executive Department for his conduct. If he has acted arbitrarily and upon insufficient reasons, it is within the power, and would be the duty of the President, not only to annul his acts, but to visit him with decisive marks of his disapprobation. To the President, in his capacity of General-in-Chief of the army, he must answer for his official conduct. But under our Constitution, which studiously seeks to keep the executive, legislative and judicial departments of the Government from all interference and conflict with each other, it would be an unwarrantable exercise of the judicial power to decide that a co-ordinate branch of the Government, acting under its high responsibilities, had violated the Constitution in its letter or its spirit by authorizing the arrest in question. Especially in these troublesome times, when the national life is imperiled, and when union and harmony among the different branches of the Government are so imperatively demanded, such interference would find no excuse or vindication. If the doctrine is to obtain that every one charged with and guilty of acts of mischievous disloyalty, not within the scope of the criminal laws of the land, in custody under military authority, is to be set free by Courts or Judges in habeas corpus, it requires no argument to prove that the most alarming conflicts must follow, and the power of the Government be most seriously impaired. I dare not, in my judicial position, assume the fearful responsibility implied in the sanction of such a doctrine.

With this presentation of the judicial opinion against the Governor's letter, both these functionaries, as well as the officer who made the arrest, being zealous democrats, (a fact deserving consideration, as their party is attempting to make political capital out of the proceeding,) we leave the subject to-day; and we trust that those who have thought the letter conclusive, will review it, keeping in mind the facts stated by Judge Leavitt, and remembering that while it is true that "Eternal vigilance is the price of Liberty," such vigilance must be exercised by those who watch for the general welfare quite as carefully as by those who, in shouting about the pretended or real injustice done to a traitor, forget that a whole nation was, or might have been by his wickedness, exposed to shame, contempt and everlasting ruin.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN

LATER FROM THE EAST.

Dates to June 14th.

NEW YORK, June 14th.—The Herald's correspondence, dated Head Quarters Army of the Potomac, June 13th, says, affairs are unchanged. The enemy display a force in the vicinity of Fredericksburg, but make no demonstration except picket firing occasionally. Longstreet's corps is near Culpepper, preparing for a movement on our right.

Another dispatch dated 3d Army Corps, June 13th, says the movements of Lee in the direction of Culpepper have been on a larger scale than was at first supposed, embracing all his army except about 10,000 troops which remain opposite Falmouth. No doubt Lee intends to risk everything on a determined effort to cross the Rappahannock and assume the offensive.

The Harper's Ferry correspondent of the Herald says, it is reported by our cavalry that a rebel force of infantry and cavalry passed through Perryville on the 4th. The columns occupied three and a half hours in passing through. The rebels intend going into Pennsylvania, where they will make a destructive and bold raid, as we are not prepared to oppose them in that quarter.

WASHINGTON, June 14th.—Four vessels left New York Saturday night, and three sailed from Hampton Roads to cruise for rebel privateers.

The steamer Ocean Queen, from Aspinwall of the 9th, has arrived with $315,000 in treasure, the mails and 100 passengers. Also, ship Bucephalus, from Bahia May 16th, has arrived. She reports that the bark Oister had arrived at Bahia from Liverpool, with a cargo of coal and ammunition for the pirates. The pirate steamer Georgia being in port at the time, the authorities ordered both out of the harbor, when they sailed for the Southward.

NASHVILLE, June 12th.—The rebels made an attack on Triune, Tenn., yesterday, about 5 in the morning. Gen. Forrest with 5,000 rebel cavalry and two batteries, attacked the cavalry division commanded by Gen. S. B. Mitchell. The federals formed in line of battle and replied vigorously to the fire of the rebels, when the rebels retreated and our forces pursued them six miles. Rebel loss was 21 killed, 60 or 70 wounded and 10 made prisoners. The federal loss was 6 killed.

LOUISVILLE, June 13th.—Two or three hundred rebels entered and took possession of Elizabethtown in this State. A freight train with 300 Government horses was captured by them. A large federal force has been sent in pursuit of the rebels and there is no doubt but they will be captured.

MURFREESBORO, June 13th.—The Chattanooga Rebel has the following:—Jackson, Miss., June 9th:—One of our officers who was captured and escaped, reports the Yankees as very much depressed by reason of Johnston massing a heavy force, and by the fact that certain defeat or annihilation awaits them.

WASHINGTON, June 14th.—The following are extracts from letters from officers, dated Haines' Bluff, Miss., June 1st: We reached here yesterday, after a week's march up the Big Black and Yazoo rivers. The object of the expedition was to destroy the resources of the country, to prevent the rebels from subsisting their armies, and to drive out any force he might have in that region, and if possible to ascertain if the rebels were collecting in any considerable force for the purpose of raising the siege of Vicksburg. We had six brigades numbering over 10,000 men. We marched over 100 miles in a week, during the hottest kind of weather, destroying all forage, supplies, cotton, and drove off all cattle, horses and mules between the two lines for a distance of 60 miles,—had only one or two slight skirmishes,—ascertained where the rebels were concentrating, and much valuable information which may be of use hereafter.

NEW YORK, June 13.—A New Orleans letter of the 6th states that our lines at Port Hudson were within speaking distance of the rebel batteries. The mortars and gunboats kept up a continual fire into the place, night and day. The weather is intensely hot.

NEW YORK, June 14.—A letter from Red river, La., states that a portion of our gunboats are blockading Red and Black rivers, up which there are known to be 20 rebel steamers; a few of them, however, are properly equipped.

Refugees from Alexandria state that the rebels re-entered that place the day after Banks left. Several blacks escaped in canoes and came to our gunboats. They report the rebels as treating them horribly. The jails are crowded with both white and black men. All who showed favor to the Union forces had been arrested and several shot.

Butte Precinct Union League.

At a meeting of the citizens of Butte Precinct, Washington county, held on Saturday, June 17th, after patriotic addresses by Messrs. Israel Mitchell, Thos. Humphrey, W. P. Watson and others, a Union League was formed, and the following resolutions adopted:

Resolved, That as all former political issues are now obsolete, the attempt to divide the friends of the Union on party names demonstrates hostility to our Government.

Resolved, That while we cheerfully guarantee to every State in the Union all power to control its local institutions, still, when any State secedes from this Government we are free from this guaranty, and all rights of such rebel States and individuals are forfeited to the Government, and that every traitor has forfeited all his rights under the Constitution, except the right to be hanged.

Resolved, That while we hold inviolate the sacred right of habeas corpus guaranteed to every citizen in time of peace, we concede to the military authorities in time of war and rebellion the right to arrest suspicious persons and hold them until such suspicions are proved groundless, and that attempts to obstruct the prosecution of the war against the rebellion is sufficient cause for suspicion.

Resolved, That we will support all officers of the Government in the execution of the laws until they are legally removed, or the laws constitutionally repealed.

ISRAEL MITCHELL, Pres't.
JOHN W. BARNUM, Sec'y.

CUTTING GOVERNMENT TIMBER.—We have it from a reliable source that a party of men have been, for some time past, cutting timber on the public lands in the Yakima valley, for cord wood for the Oregon Steam Navigation Company. The authorities of Washington Territory ought to put a stop to this, as it is in direct violation of law, and a robbery which will seriously damage the settlement of that valley. Timber is scarce there, only growing upon the banks of the streams, but sufficient to supply bona fide settlers with, and if allowed to remain, and as the lands are extremely rich and fertile, a home could be secured to many families who are probably now on their way across the plains to become citizens and cultivators of the soil wherever reasonable advantages offer or prospects invite their labor and industry.

Storage.—THE FIRE PROOF STONE WAREHOUSE, opposite Umatilla House, is the only building, not made of wood, of the Dalles, where goods are taken on STORAGE. All other houses that take goods on storage are wooden buildings and in exposed parts of the town, liable to the risk of fire. BELPHEGOR, THE MOUNTEBANK.—We m the following extract from one of Douglas J rold's criticisms upon this popular drama

After addressing the reader in a lively, morous style, he says: "Believing that th art-merry and wise; sightly, sprightly, nothing loth to laugh, we put before the little drama which, however it may tic thee, will not let thee cry quittance without tear!

"Belphegor is a translation of Paillas a highly popular French piece at the Gaité Paris, written by M. M. Dennery and M Fournier. It has been the aim of the inge ous authors to show that manly, and even fined feeling, truth, constancy, and the soc virtues, may be found in a condition of l where few would condescend to look for the That the mountebank, who earns his living by the most ludicrous shams; carbines, cannon-balls, nine-inch bomb-shel shark's teeth, fish-hooks, liquid lead, a aqua fortis are precarious victuals and dri —whose orchestra is an asthmatic trumpet cracked drum, a salt box, and a fiddle—and whose equipage a ramshackl tumble down old bone-setter of a barouc drawn by a four-footed anatomy (mis-calle Mutton!) with the staggers—that the Jack Pudding, whose grinning merriment is infec tious, and whose countenance a continual ca icature, can feel the holy affections of natur resist temptation when hard pinched by po erty, walk independent and erect in the con sciousness of integrity, and learn to venera himself as man!"

"The translator of Belphegor has interpol ted no home-brewed buffoonery. If genui humor fail to provoke mirth, let the ori authors bear the blame for not condescendi to employ less legitimate means. * * * Th plot is interesting and the characters (parti ularly Madeline and the Mountebank) a drawn with propriety and force. In the se timents and language there is much to admi and nothing to offend. The moral is une ceptionable."

We regret that space will not permit us make a more lengthy extract from this crit cism, giving an outline of the play and i many amusing and touching scenes, but w advise all who wish to be delighted with representation of these scenes, to go to th Theatre to-night, and they are sure to witne such a play that will not soon be forgotten prove uninteresting. Mr. Waldron will ap pear as the Belphegor, and Miss Mitchell Madeline, supported by the entire strength the company.

APPOINTMENT.—Gov. Gibbs has appointe James M. Pyle County Judge of Baker coun ty, in place of Wilson, resigned. Mr. Py is reputed to be a man of energy and integrity He came to Oregon in 1853; was Clerk of th District Court of Douglas county for a numbe of years; was admitted to the bar in 1857, and practiced law in Southern Oregon until the beginning of the war, when he went to Wash ington and returned as 1st lieutenant of Capt Crawford's expedition. At present he reside in Spring Valley, Baker county.

BUTTE PRECINCT.—A large and enthusiastic Union meeting was held at Butte Precinct, i Washington county, on the 17th inst., the anniversary of Bunker Hill, at which spirited speeches were made and patriotic resolution adopted. Some thirty names were enrolle and the spirit of '76 seemed to prevail gen erally.

What is the difference between the people of Oregon and the magnetic telegraph? The people cease to rely on the telegraph, but the telegraph still relies on the people.

THE DIFFERENCE.—"I'll die for the flag," cried a custom-house clerk. Said a soldier: "My patriotic friend, look here! this shedding one's blood for twelve dollars a month isn't like shedding red ink at twelve hundred a year."

DR. D. JAYNES'

EXPECTORANT
AND SANATIVE PILLS

HAVE BEEN BEFORE THE PUBLIC SO LONG, and found such general favor in every region of country where they have been sold, (and there is no place on the civilized globe where they have not been sold) that it would seem almost superfluous at this time to direct attention to them through the medium of the press. Yet it is due to suffering humanity, and especially to that numerous class who, in the changeable climate of the Pacific Coast, suffer from inducing and ending in CONSUMPTION, many of whom may not have used this remedy, that they should be allowed to read of some of the cases where its influence has been useful in remedying complaints from which they are suffering. The EXPECTORANT

Operates immediately upon the Disease,

SURELY AND SPEEDILY ERADICATING IT, while the SANATIVE PILLS, by preserving regularity in the Bowels, and giving a healthy tone to the other internal organs, aid and assist the perfect operation of the former.

Attention is asked to the following Certificates, selected at random from the mass in the possession of the proprietors:

UPPER UWCHLAND, Chester Co, Pa, Sept 15, 1858.

Dr. D. JAYNE—Having been afflicted with ASTHMA and BRONCHITIS, and having the advice of some of the most eminent physicians, whose skillful treatment of my case did not prove to be of any avail, I obtained no relief for my suffering until I commenced the use of your EXPECTORANT. After taking it for about three months I was entirely cured. NATHAN PENNYPACKER.

ASTORIA, Long Island, Jan 16, 1860.

L. W. TINELLI, Esq. New York—SIR: As you well know I had been afflicted with BRONCHITIS, accompanied with the most painful tightness of the chest, and great difficulty in breathing for nearly two months, and I had almost lost all confidence in the power of medical science, when at your friendly suggestion, I began the well known (but not enough known) "EXPECTORANT" of Dr. Jayne, of Philadelphia. Three or four days after having commenced to take it, my cough had nearly subsided, the expectoration was easy, and the breathing quite free.

I am now quite another man, and my general health has never been better.

I remain, my dear Tinelli, with esteem, your servant and friend, J. B. MONTE.

WINFIELD, Tuscarawas Co. O., May 31, 1860.

DR. D. JAYNE—Dear Sir: One bottle of your Expectorant cured my daughter of the LUNG FEVER, after having been beyond the hope of recovery. During the attack she had a number of convulsions. She is now perfectly well. J. H. COFFMAN.

BURLINGTON, Bradford Co. Pa, July 21, 1853.

DR. D. JAYNE—Dear Sir: My son was for one and a half years afflicted with a disease resembling CONSUMPTION. For two years he was not able to labor. He was finally induced to try your EXPECTORANT and PILLS, and after taking 10 bottles and some PILLS was completely cured, and is now able to labor every day. JOHN HENRY.

We would add to the above that we sold to Mr Henry the medicine for his son, and know that the statement is true. MERRY, WILHELM & CO.

For a greater number and variety of certificates, and fuller information regarding these and other of Dr D Jayne and Sons' Preparations, reference is given to the ANNUAL ALMANAC which may be had from any Druggist or Dealer in Medicines.

DR. BAKER'S

PAIN PANACEA.

Is composed entirely of healing gums, and vegetable oils and herbs. It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. I can most sincerely say that I have never known any, however delicate, to be injured by it in the least. I will continue to help the afflicted who have not used it, to try it for the following diseases; if they are not satisfied with its healing properties, the money will be cheerfully returned by the agent where the medicine is for sale.

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels, try a dose of Pain Panacea internally, bathe externally over the parts affected, and you will at once restore the proper action and relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound, bathe it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day. It will relieve the pain, and take out all the poison, and heal the wound in a short time.

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Rheumatic Pains, apply the Pain Panacea freely, and take a dose of it internally, morning, noon and night; it will not only cure the pain, but will remove the cause of the disease.

If you have the Dyspepsia, and your food distresses your stomach after eating, take a dose of Pain Panacea after each meal.

If you have a Cankered or Sore Mouth or Throat, apply the Pain Panacea, to the affected parts, and gargle the mouth or throat three or four times a day.

If you have the Diarrhoea, or a relaxed state of the bowels, take a dose of Pain Panacea and they will soon be restored. If you have a painful swelling, bathe the parts freely, and you will soon relieve pain, and the swelling will be reduced.

If you have a severe tooth-ache, apply the Pain Panacea on a piece of cotton and bathe the gum at the same time; it will stop the pain instantly.

If you have a pain in the Breast, Side, Back or Kidneys, bathe the parts affected morning and night; at the same time take a dose of the Panacea internally.

If a Mother has a caked breast, apply the Panacea as hot as it can be borne.

If you feel chilly or cold, as though you were going to have a fever, take a dose of Panacea.

If you have a wound, cut, or galls upon your horse, apply the Pain Panacea; it will take out all the inflammation and heal the sore in a short time.

Old Abe Consulting the Spirits.

A Washington correspondent of the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette gives the following account of a recent spiritual manifestation at the White House

A few evenings since Abraham Lincoln, the President of the United States, was induced to give a spiritual soirée in the crimson room at the White House, to test the wonderful alleged supernatural powers of Mr Charles E Shockle It was my good fortune, as a friend of the medium, to be present, the party consisting of, the President, Mrs. Lincoln Mr Welles, Mr Stanton, Mr L of New York and Mr F of Philadelphia We took our seats in the circle about 8 o'clock, but the President was called away shortly after the manifestations commenced, and the spirits which had apparently assembled to convince him of their power, gave visible tokens of their displeasure at the President's absence, by pinching Mr Stanton's ears and twitching Mr Welles' beard The President soon returned, but it was some time before harmony was restored, for the mishaps to the Secretaries caused such bursts of laughter, that the influence was very unpropitious For some half hour the demonstrations were of a physical character—tables were moved, and a picture of Henry Clay, which hangs on the wall, was swayed more than a foot, and two candelebras, presented by the Dey of Algiers to President Adams, were twice raised nearly to the ceiling

It was nearly nine o'clock before Shockle was fully under spiritual influence, and so powerful were the subsequent manifestations, that twice during the evening restoratives were applied, for he was much weakened, and though I took no notes, I shall endeavor to give you as faithful an account as possible of what took place

Loud rappings about nine o'clock were heard directly beneath the President's feet, and Mr Shockle stated that an Indian desired to communicate

"Well, sir," said the President, "I should be happy to hear what his Indian majesty has to say. We have recently had a visitation from our red brethren, and it was the only delegation, black, white or blue, which did not volunteer some advice about the conduct of the war"

The medium then called for pencil and paper, and they were laid upon the table in sight of all. A handkerchief was then taken from Mr Stanton and the materials were carefully concealed from sight In less space of time than it has required me to write this, knocks were heard, and the paper was uncovered To the surprise of all present, it read as follows

"Haste makes waste, but delays cause vexations Give vitality by energy Use every means to subdue Proclamations are useless Make a bold front and fight the enemy; leave traitors at home to the care of the loyal men. Less note of preparation, less parade and policy talk and more action

Henry Knox"

"That is not Indian talk, Mr Shockle," said the President "Who is Henry Knox?"

I suggested to the medium to ask who Gen Knox was, and before the words were from my lips, the medium spoke in a strange voice, "The First Secretary of War"

"Oh, yes, General Knox," said the President, who turning to the Secretary, said—"Stanton, that message is for you—it is from your predecessor"

Mr Stanton made no reply

"I should like to ask General Knox," said the President "if it is within the scope of his ability to tell us when this rebellion will be put down"

In the same manner as before this message was received

"Washington, Lafayette, Franklin, Wilberforce, Napoleon and myself have held frequent consultations upon this point. There is something which our spiritual eyes cannot detect which prevents rapid consummation of plans which appear well formed Evil has come at times by removal of men from high positions, and there are those in retirement whose abilities should be made useful to hasten the end Napoleon says concentrate your forces upon one point, Lafayette thinks that the rebellion will die of exhaustion, Franklin sees the end approaching as the South must give up for want of mechanical ability to compete against Northern mechanics, Wilberforce sees hope only in a large negro army

Knox"

"Well," exclaimed the President, "opinions differ among the saints as well as among the sinners. They don't seem to understand running the machine among the celestials much better than we do. Their talk and advice sounds very much like the talk of my cabinet—don't you think so, Mr. Welles?"

"Well, I don't know—I will think the matter over and see what conclusion I arrive at."

Heavy raps were heard and the alphabet was called for, when "That's what's the matter," was called out

There was a shout of laughter, and Mr Welles stroked his beard

"That means, Mr Welles," said the President, "that you are apt to be long winded, and the nearest way home is the longest round Short cuts in war times I wish the spirits would tell us how to catch the Alabama"

The lights which had been partially lowered almost instantaneously became so dim that I could not see sufficiently to distinguish the features of any one in the room, and on the large mirror over the mantel piece there appeared the most beautiful though supernatural picture eye ever beheld. It represented a sea view, the Alabama with all steam up flying from the pursuit of another large steamer Two merchantmen in the distance were seen partially destroyed by fire The picture changed and the Alabama was seen at anchor under the shadow of an English fort—from which an English flag was waving The Alabama was floating idly, not a soul on board, and no signs of life visible about her The picture vanished and in letters of purple appeared, "The English people demanded this of England's Aristocracy"

"So England is to seize the Alabama finally?" said the President, "It may be possible, but, Mr. Welles, don't let one gunboat or one monitor less be built."

The spirits again called for the alphabet, and again "That's what's the matter" was spelt out

"I see, I see," said the President, "Mother England thinks that what's sauce for the goose may be sauce for the gander It may be tit, tat, too, hereafter But it is not very complimentary to our navy anyhow"

"We've done our best, Mr. President," said Mr Welles "I'm maturing a plan which, when perfected I think if it works well, will be a perfect trap for the Alabama"

"Well, Mr Shockle" remarked the President, "I have seen strange things and heard rather odd remarks but nothing which convinces me, except the pictures, that there is anything very heavenly about all this. I should like, if possible, to hear what Judge Douglas says about this war"

"I'll try to get his spirit," said Mr Shockle, "but it sometimes happens, as it did to night in the case of the Indian, that though first impressed by one spirit I yield to another more powerful If perfect silence is maintained, I will see if we cannot induce General Knox to send for Mr Douglas"

Three raps were given, signifying assent to the proposition Perfect silence was maintained, and after an interval of perhaps three minutes, Mr Shockle rose quickly from his chair and stood up behind it, resting his left arm on the back, his right thrust into his bosom In a voice such as no one could mistake who had ever heard Mr Douglas, he spoke I shall not pretend to quote the language. It was eloquent and choice He urged the President to throw aside all advisers who hesitated about the policy to be pursued, and to listen to the wishes of the people, who would sustain him at all points if his aim was, as he believed it was, to restore the Union He said there were Burrs and Blennerhassetts still living, but that they would wither before the popular approval, which would follow one or two victories, such as he thought must take place ere long The turning point in this war will be the proper use of these victories—if wicked men in the first hours of success think it time to devote their attention to party, the war will be prolonged, but if victory is followed up by energetic action all will be well

"I believe that," said the President, "whether it comes from spirit or human"

Mr Shockle was much prostrated after this, and at Mrs Lincoln's request it was thought best to adjourn the seance, which, if resumed, I shall give you an account of.

PARTICULAR NOTICE.

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS!

AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS.

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that "HOOFLAND'S German Bitters" will cure nine tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists, published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed. We have no hesitation in stating, that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters"

PHILADELPHIA August 23, 1862.

Messrs Jones & Evans—Well gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Captain R B Ayres. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House, and sent to this city on board the Steamer "State of Maine" from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been about as low as any one could be and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything, and if I did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances; and, accordingly, the physicians who had been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully, to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me and advised me to see a clergyman, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr Frederick Steinbron of Sixth below Arch Street, advised me, as a forlorn hope, to try your Bitters, and kindly procured a bottle. From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded, and I am now, thank God for it, getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles, I have gained ten pounds, and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months; for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian, from the vicinity of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears—to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly yours

ISAAC MALONE.

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade Mr Malone, restored to life
